

Post-Master's Certificate in Nursing Education Concentration in Clinical (PMC-C)

This three-course (10-credit) post-master's certificate program (PMC-C) is designed for nurses who hold both a baccalaureate degree in nursing and a master's degree in education (e.g. M.Ed), who wish to obtain clinical course content at the master's level, for practice as an academic or clinical nurse educator. Students may start this certificate program any semester and will take one course a semester, concluding in three semesters. All courses are a hybrid mix in person and online class meeting times.

Fall Semester (2 Credits)

NLX 422: Health Assessment for Nurse Leaders and Nurse Educators

Spring Semester (4 Credits)

NLX 421: Physiology, Pathophysiology & Pharmacology for Nurse Leaders and Educators

Summer Semester (4 Credits)

NLX 420: Theory & Evidence-Based Practice for Nurse Educators

This hybrid online course includes 56 hours (1 credit) of a precepted clinical practice experience in the students area of expertise/interest with the goal of improving healthcare or patient outcomes

